

Ladysmith Maritime Festival

May 29th & 30th, 2010

We'll raise the flag, sound the cannons, hoist the anchor and we'll all set sail to find fun, grub and grog in Ladysmith Harbour.

The 25th anniversary of the Maritime Festival kicks off with a pirate walk through town on Friday, May 28th. Captain Jack will stagger through the streets visiting local children and merchants.

The 2010 Ladysmith Maritime Festival at LMS Community Marina will be on Saturday and Sunday, May 29th and 30th from 10:00am - 4:00pm. This year also marks the 100th anniversary of the Canadian Navy and 3 Orcas from the Canadian Navy will be docked in Ladysmith marina.

Folks can dress up as pirates and enjoy all the fun, food and entertainment including the return of Captain Jack. Tour the harbour as well as be able to view heritage vessels from Ladysmith's rich maritime past.

It will be lots of fun for all ages to enjoy all the free festivities which will happen on the festival site.

Cliff Fisher, the festival chair, said he is looking forward to the happiness created by the weekend.

The Maritime Festival features pirate, including the infamous Jack Sparrow. Once again this year, Ladysmith and Stz'uminus First Nation representatives, are paddling across the harbour in a canoe.
